The Great Sandy Strait would have to be one of the most diverse fisheries. We have so many species to target on a seasonal basis. Even though we have had a couple of gusty days there is always somewhere to fish in this beautiful part of the world.

The water temperature is on the rise with a couple of hot ones in the mix and the jacks and barramundi are starting to fire up.

The Mary River is producing some nice grunter, black and silver bream, blue salmon and yes, we are still getting mud crabs mainly from up the creeks.

Tailor have been schooling up on Fraser Island this season. Nothing beats a fresh fillet smoked. If you're heading to the Island, it would be a good idea to pack the kipper box. Small choppers are also filtering through to the Great Sandy Straits.

Although we get Summer whiting all year round, there has been a noticeable size increase with anglers reporting a lot of elbow slappers amongst them. You don't need many of these larger fish to make a good feed.

The reefs on the inside of Fraser Island have been producing grass emperor, nannygai, cod, painted Sweetlip, cobia and the occasional tusk fish as the water temperature starts to heat up.

If you love sight casting and are keen to speed up your fishing, head up along the Island and get amongst the GT's, Golden trevally and queenfish that are hanging in the shallows.

Photos:

Alex had an epic day on the jacks.

Good to see our young anglers out chasing flathead, great work Ruben.

Mason spun up a nice Queenfish on a soft plastic. Matt took his little fisherman out and caught a good feed of summer whiting.

Dave with a nice snapper from the inshore reef

BUSHFIRE SEASON IS HERE

OCTOBER 2024

The fire season is here – over the past couple of weeks we have seen a significant Increase in fire responses.

From 0800hrs Friday 30/08/2024 the whole District will be moving to BPL2 – Bushfire Preparedness Level 2. (BPL2) .

Actions

- Respect that it's bushfire season and the threat is real.
 - Respect that if you live anywhere near bushland, it can only take a couple of minutes for bushfire to land right on your doorstep.
 - Check your Bushfire Survival Plan and follow each step.
- Monitor the fire danger ratings and stay alert to any bushfire warnings.

Further information

QFD's online Bushfire Survival Plan is a user-friendly, interactive tool that helps Queenslanders make informed decisions about what they will do during a bushfire emergency.

On the QFD website you can also learn how to prepare your property for bushfire season, discover bushfire risk factors, and understand fire danger ratings and the vital advice contained in bushfire warnings.
